WE NOMINATE

George Joseph Cooke Jr., one of the far-seeing and articulate spokesmen for American higher education, who this week—on the same day "Pay-As-You-Go" Beardsly Ruml was proclaiming that colleges and universities are squandering their financial resources—was elevated to the post of Assistant to Princeton President Robert F. Goheen in fund-raising matters. At the same time, the 59-year old Cooke, probably the most astute fund-raiser in Princeton's recorded history, was named Midwestern Manager of "$53 Million for Princeton," the three-year campaign launched last February for desperately needed capital funds.

The Chicago-born Cooke, bachelor president of the Princeton Class of 1922 and a University staff member since 1946, represents the post-World War II generation of "academic laymen," meaning individuals as dedicated to matters administrative as their faculty colleagues are to teaching and research. As Princeton's alumni-directed Annual Giving Campaign has advanced from $216,000 in 1945-46 to a staggering total of nearly $1,400,000 in 1958-59, with almost three out of every four Princeton alumni participating, Cooke has been the catalyst, or the link between the University's dollar-needs and alumni objectives and organizations.

One measure of Cooke's effectiveness, aside from the fact that he has been largely responsible for raising an estimated $11,000,000 in the past 12 years, is the number of awards the Princeton University Fund has collected over the course of 18 months. The 1956-57 drive produced no less than four distinctive honors, including the Time-Life Award for the "Direct Mail Campaign of the Year" and a special citation for training volunteer workers, while this spring Cooke accepted from the U.S. Steel Corporation the first-place Alumni Giving Incentive Award for privately sustained universities.

There is a striking analogy between Cooke's business career in the 1920's and 1930's, followed by his delayed appearance on the educational scene in 1946, and his attempts to play a meaningful role in World War II, an effort capped by a brilliant combat record with the Air Force. Successful as he was in the warehousing business in Chicago, and subsequently in executive sales positions and advertising in New York, Cooke, a sometime contributor to New Yorker Magazine, was invariably interested in the general field of human relations—the kind of unusual and challenging job he took over here.

For nearly two years, 1940-42, Cooke pulled every string he could reach before he succeeded in enlisting as private at age 42. Three years later, following 26 successive months in the European Theater of Operations, he returned to civilian life. In the interim he had been a waist-gunner and radio operator on bombers and paratroop carriers, had accumulated eight battle stars and the Air Medal with two clusters, and had been a crew-member of the C-47 that landed General Matthew Ridgway in Normandy on D-Day, 1944. Next June, when he is inducted as president of the 800-Institution American Alumni Council, it may be recalled that he also volunteered for B-29 duty in the Pacific.

For helping establish new standards for alumni support of education among all American colleges; for seeing more clearly than most that higher education is this country's first line of defense; for believing deeply in the things for which he stands; he is Town Topics' nominee for Over Growth in Township. One of the Eastern seaboard's most desirable residential communities — Princeton Township — continued to experience growing pains in the past week as opinions understandably differed on the best procedure for guiding its inevitable population boom.

Last Wednesday, the second well-attended hearing on the municipality's Master Plan drew varied and occasionally conflicting thoughts on guiding Township growth. Among the major points discussed: how large a welcome mat should be spread out for "Right industry"? (See story, page 3.)

At a special meeting Tuesday night, party lines split, as the lone Democrat (William Marvel) teamed with two Republicans to vote against G.O.P. Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman. A 4-1 split, rare in that the other committee-men sided against their executive officer, brought passage of the controversial amendment to the zoning ordinance, removing the "saving" clause. The clause permitted developers who had subdivided their land between 1948 and 1955 to keep the divisions, even if they were smaller than the required lot size under the 1955 regulations.
"I can't feel that this amendment should be adopted," Mayor Fairman said. "I assume the 1953 Planning Board felt that the exception was reasonable. They didn't set a cut-off date and probably assumed that the exception would do more good for the Township in the long run if the property involved were developed under the original status."

"Until property is used," explained Township attorney Gordon Griffin, "it is subject to the zoning power and any upgrading that may take place." Mr. Griffin also emphasized that the isolated, individual lot, even though it is vacant, has a status which cannot be removed by upgrading. Councilman Stanley Smoyer said that Township Committee, realizing the controversial nature of the amendment, was acting only after a thorough study of the properties involved and after conferences with zoning experts.

Blasting Blasted Again. Acting on the request of about a dozen property owners, Township committee adopted a resolution on blasting done by Kingston Trap Rock. In the resolution, drawn up by attorney Thomas Cook on behalf of several clients, Township Committee requests Kingston Trap Rock to conduct its blasting so as to prevent the damage that Mr. Cook's clients say has occurred to their homes.

The resolution also requests the State Commission of Labor and Industry to continue its present investigation of blasting at Kingston and to prescribe controls which the company should follow. In addition, the resolution asks for state legislation to provide more stringent blasting control.

Copies of the resolution, passed unanimously by the Committee, will be sent to Kingston Trap Rock, to the Commission of Labor and Industry and to the Chief of the Bureau of Mine Safety. Nine affidavits indicating damage to homes, said to have been caused by blasting, are attached to the resolution.

Mr. Cook said his clients complained primary blasts involving 10,000 to 15,000 pounds of explosives, "with an effect like an earthquake," in Mr. Cook's words, and secondary blasts in which air concussion is the chief nuisance. "In one case," Mr. Cook said, "I know that my neighbor, Mrs. David Dodge (706 Princeton-Kingston Road) was sitting in her bedroom when a blast went off, and actually saw a crack appear in the wall of the room."

In a letter to Mr. Cook, Mrs. Lewis Hicks, Herrontown Road and Snowden Lane, said that deep cracks had appeared in her child's block swimming pool, that, two weeks after her house had been re-plastered, cracks re-appeared.

The possible relationship between blasting and well pollution and septic tank problems in Herrontown area was brought up by Mrs. Ferris Thomsen, Herrontown Road, in a letter to Township clerk Joseph Nini. Mrs. Thomsen suggested that blasts might have caused cracks in well shafts.

"It is possible for Kingston to control these blasts if they will," Mr. Cook said.

As background for future Committee action on the extension of water lines, Mr. Griffin explained that, while the Committee would like to extend the lines and assess property owners for them as public improvements, it — Continued on Page 2 wel felt that enabling legislation would be needed before this could be done.

Mr. Griffin said that until 1951, municipalities had specific authority to do this, but that it was taken away because the state felt that general sections of the law covered the situation.

It has turned out, Mr. Griffin continued, that present laws are not enough. He said that a Mercer County Assemblyman has agreed to introduce legislation if Township and Community decide to proceed with water line extension.

In an unscheduled flurry of debate, several residents of the Sycamore Road area protested Community plans to assess Sycamore Road property owners for paving and improvements. They said they felt that the Township should pay because changes in Township road plans were responsible for the fact that the developer had not improved Sycamore.

A letter signed by 14 residents at Sycamore and Balsam Roads was presented to Mayor Fairman and held by him for the public hearing on the Sycamore ordinance.

Asphalt Brothers Inc., Trenton contractors, were awarded the contract for paving Riverside. The figure: $117,725. Bids for construction of the Prospect sewer were all too high and Township Committee will advertise for new bids.

The Police-Community Relations Institute has been established to help policemen to a better understanding of the various cultural and religious groups within their communities.

ROUNDUP

RE PARKING AND SPEEDING: The Borough isn't ready to make an announcement yet, but steady attention is being paid the increasing shortage of parking space around the Pennsylvania Railroad Station. . . Borough, Railroad and University officials conferred at length last week on the difficult situation that exists on the lower University Place. . . Mayor Male, without mentioning meters, reports that "with a spirit of wholehearted cooperation evidenced on all sides, it appears that in the very near future steps can be taken to relieve some of the long-standing traffic problems in the area."

The Township Committee has gone after the State Highway Department for the fourth year in a row with a request to lower the 50-mile speed limit on State Road 206 from Arretton Road northwards. . . The State has rejected three previous pleas, reporting that radar checks show at least 85% of the cars using 206 go 50 miles an hour and since this is legal, the maximum speed is permitted.

Township officials also want a reduction on Stockton Street from Elm Road to Quaker Road, stressing the curving nature of the highway in the Edgewater area, and on the Princeton-Kings-ton Road, where records show accidents on the increase. . . the letter to the Highway Department also asks for installation of a traffic light at Nassau and Riverside before the new school year in that area is completed next September. . . the Township Committee takes the stand that a signal is needed at that intersection even if school pedestrian traffic is not involved.

MAY MEANDERINGS: At midweek, Princeton itself had been little affected by the strike of Public Service electrical workers. . . a spokesman for the big utility company in Newark reported that "only a couple" of members of the union itself are out here and that 17 members of the Utility Co-workers Association (in the Nassau Street commercial office) are refusing to cross picket lines. . . around town, however, service failures have been reported in the Hopewell area, in Clarksville and in the Crovers Mill-Cranbury section. . . supervisors are making repairs as quickly as possible but are avoiding accidents by not working at night.

A first-hand look at Township areas listed as having possible sewage and well pollution problems will be taken this Thursday by a representative of the Bureau of Public Health Engineering. . . he will be accompanied by Mrs. Marcella Farley, the municipality's health officer, while inspecting Hillside, Ridgeway Circle and Princeton Pike, with one or more additional tours of other areas scheduled later this spring.

A new means of tackling the housing shortage has come to the fore with creation of a Teacher Housing Committee in the Township. . . parents of pupils in the district are asked to assist in finding apartments at a modest price for both current and new teachers. . . committee members (Mrs. Gene Nowlin, Mrs. William Sloan, Mrs. Donald Snyder) may be called, as well as the City Brook Administration Building.

Hopes are that the four wedding pools operated each summer under supervision of the Playgrounds Committee can be kept open for an additional two weeks this summer, making 10 weeks in all. . . it would cost the Borough and Township governments an extra $200 apiece and would be well worth it in the case of children who keep cool at the John, Pine, Erdman and Harrison Street wading centers.

The Police Benevolent Association's 1959 campaign for funds is well short of its goal. Borough Chief Raymond Mondone reports . . . whereas about $3,500 is at hand, $10,300 is needed to underwrite the various projects planned by the PBA on behalf of the community's younger generation.

Winner of the automobile raffied off as part of the Princeton Country Day School Fair was Hallett Johnson Jr. of Pretty Brook Road. . . A classified ad this week seeks on object it would seem difficult to lose: an eight-foot beetle boat. . . one independent young Princetonian explained to his parents this week why he didn't want to go to the camp in which they had enrolled him: "It interferes with my vacation."

TOPICS Of the Town

EXPANSION DEBATED

At Final Master Plan Hearing. Questions of zoning, land use and rateables occupied the Planning Board and some 50 Township residents who went to Township Hall last Wednesday night for the second and final hearing on the proposed Master Plan for the municipality.

"The Master Plan is based on the assumption that the Township will be built up," said Gerald W. Brees, 195 Russell Road. "The question is 'how?' and not 'whether.'"

John Green, Edgerstoun Road, suggested that the Board consider automated light industries to broaden the Township's tax base, rather than research laboratories.

"Research brings more people who require more schools and other facilities," Mr. Green said. "The most desirable enterprise would seem to be one that added to our tax base without adding to our population."

In reply, Ralph Mason, Planning Board chairman, said that possibly "light industry" and "research" meant about the same thing. He also said that much of the land proposed by the Plan for research was too rocky and inaccessible for many industries. (There are two proposed research areas and one in the northeastern corner of the Township near River Road, the other a northwestern extension of the present research laboratory district.)

The Master Plan proposes that 4.5 percent of Township land be zoned for research, an increase in 23.21 percent. The actual land involved is 371 acres.

Mr. Brees pointed out that, if this zoning were adopted, it would mean 225 fewer residential lots for the Township. That means 225 fewer tax-consuming owners," Mr. Brees said.

Theodore Kane, Princeton-Kingston Road, suggested that light industry with specialized equipment might bring in desirable tax rateables, but Mr. Mason told him it was the Board's opinion that rateables were higher in research.

"What can we offer industry that other areas haven't got?" Mr. Mason, asked, pointing out that the Board would welcome suggestions about enlarging or reducing the amount of land suggested for research.

Seletivity Urged. A representative of the Candebau Association, the organization that prepared the Plan, said that "light industry" was too broad a category, and pointed out that such factors as noise, smell, nuisance and so on, should be considered more than size. "Special consideration ought to be given to specially desirable light industries," suggested Melvin Cottrell.

"If we don't get industries in the Township," asked Mrs. Lawrence N. Kerr, "can we use that land for houses?"

The Candebau representative said it was not a good policy to break up big industrial plots into smaller house lots and suggested an interim use for the land for golf courses, drive-in movies and the like. In such a case, he said, the Township might purchase development rights and forgive taxes during the interim period.

Nathan Hower, Planning Board member, said that the Township had had queries from organizations looking for a place to build, but that they wanted to know whether the Township had a "plan," so that "a chicken coop wouldn't go up next door," and that they wanted to know whether apartments or houses were available for transient rental. Mrs. Kerr pointed out that many residents of Princeton needed cheaper housing, in addition to rental housing.

Several residents of the Township questioned Master Plan rezoning proposals, urging the retention of open areas in the Township. James Sayen, The Great Road, and Richard Stillwell, The Great Road, urged that the two-acre zone on the The Great Road be retained.

The Candebau representatives pointed out that the Plan reduces both extremes of the zoning areas—the 2-acre and the quarter-acre—extending the middle range.

In regard to financing the plan, Mr. Mason said that, "if all goes well," the Board estimated the cost of the Plan to be 1c per $100 of assessed valuation per year for 20 years. In figuring out the cost, Mr. Mason said that the Economic Sub-Committee and the Candebau people took different lines of approach and came out in almost exactly the same position.

In the discussion of capital improvements as well as in discussions of roads, land use and the rest of the Plan, Mr. Mason emphasized that the Plan consisted of proposals only. He also said that no priority had been set for any specific project.

SUPPORTS UNITED FUND

PBA Favors Single Campaign. A resolution supporting a single fund drive through the Princeton United Community Fund has been adopted by the board of directors of the Princeton Business Association. It was announced this week by Loar L. Quickle, president. The resolution states, in part: "We express our regret and dissatisfaction about the appearance in recent years of a multiplicity of separate drives conducted by organizations, worthy though they may be, which have not sought membership in the Community Fund A. For it therefore resolved that the Princeton Association heartily endorse the recent public invitation issued by the Princeton United Community Fund to these organizations."

PLAYERS' CHOICE: Miss Nanci Haughton will serve as the Community Players' first executive director.

Members of the PBA who are in agreement with the resolution were urged to state their attitude toward the campaign by organizations and workers promoting the separate drives. In addition, Mr. Quickle and other members of the PBA have accepted appointment on the committee to eliminate separate campaigns, headed by Raymond A. Boos.

Ralph S. Mason, president of the United Fund, said that the fund is greatly appreciative of the PBA's stand, "especially that part which encourages businessmen to express their attitude to the PBA's stand."

Mr. Mason said that the fund is greatly appreciative of the PBA's stand, "especially that part which encourages businessmen to express their attitude to the PBA's stand." Mr. Bowers, who said, "I am sure the action of the Business Association will please the public and impress other agencies with the seriousness of this question and the attitude of the contributors."

PLAYERS CHANGE POLICY

By Naming Executive Director. For the first time in their 26-year history, the Princeton Community Players have forsaken their simon-pure amateur status. Effective immediately, Miss Nanci Haughton will assume the newly-created position of executive director, an assignment that will bring compensation in return for the various supervisory duties Miss Haughton will discharge.

Heretofore, all administration of the Players' multiple activities has been on a volunteer basis. Now, with five scheduled productions each season and the possibility of increasing dramatic activity, the organization has voted to retain the services of a salaried executive.

Miss Haughton's immediate duties will include consultation with a program committee which will complete details for the 1955-56 productions. She will also coordinate plans for a membership drive and study the possibilities for increased use of the Alexander Street Playmill facilities.

Crafts teacher at Miss Fine's School, a position she will continue to fill while serving the Players on a part-time basis, Miss Haughton is a native of New York. N. H. As a member of the Players, she has been assistant to the director of the successful "Winter production, 'Under Milkwood,'" and was responsible for direction of "Riders to the Sea," one of three workshop plays selected for public presentation this spring.

Peter G. Cook headed the committee naming of Miss Haughton's appointment. Other members were John F. Becker, Mrs. Blackwell Smith, Fred Sheldon and Mrs. Herbert McNeney, Players' president, serving in an ex-officio capacity. (For a review of the Players' current Playmill production, see "News of the Theatres," page 5.)

Jersey Lament

Bermuda High,
Must you come our way?
We'd be happy
If you'd stay forever!
—Rag Mop

Rag Mop's worries are premature; humidity caused by a high pressure system circulating this way from Bermuda rarely affects the Atlantic seaboard before mid-June. When it does war upward, however, it's not something soon to be forgotten.

Before summer's heat arrives, spring has a number of pleasant days still in stock, the Sun reported. Nowhere near as cold as last Saturday, either (when a record May 16 low of 41 degrees was recorded—just four days after the 1959 high of 87 had steamed everybody's claims.) Temperature about normal of 62 throughout the weekend, and little or no precipitation in sight.

establishment of a John Foster Dulles Library of Diplomatic History at Princeton University. The library will contain Mr. Dulles' personal papers, as well as all classification and restrictions have been removed from the original documents. Until that time, many of the documents will not be available for research purposes. While this means that some of the papers cannot be consulted for several years, it was felt that the collection would have more significance if it were established now, while the events it covers were freshly in mind.

The personal papers of Mr. Dulles, vaudeville actor of the Princeton Class of 1908, were described by Dr. Robert F. Goheen, university president, as "one of the most meaningful gifts the Princeton Library has ever received." The papers, some of which have already been received by the library, will be used as a research collection for the study of American diplomatic and political institutions.

In presenting his papers to the university, Mr. Dulles specified that access to them should be granted "as widely as possible" in doing bona fide research in the fields of history, political science, international relations and related subjects. "The pressure shall be," Mr. Dulles said, "that access should be granted in any particular instance unless compelling reasons exist to withhold such access."

Scholars seeking access to Mr. Dulles' personal papers, once they are isolated and organized in the new library wing, must receive through the Princeton Library the written approval of Mr. Dulles' representatives.

Picture of History. Agreement concerning the establishment of a collection of copies of official documents of the Department of State was announced simultaneously by the department and the university. The collection, which will consist of microfilmed copies of original documents in the Department of State, will present an accurate picture of the six eventful years in the field of foreign affairs during Mr. Dulles' service as secretary of state.

AUCTION ITEMS LISTED

News Of The THEATRES

"THE CHILD STEALER"
At The Playmill. "An instructive melodrama of high moral character" was played out on the Playmill boards last weekend and will be repeated again this Friday and Saturday as well as on May 30 at the Community Players' Alexander Street theater. The play, of course, is "The Child Stealer," a 19th century rip-snorter.

As everyone knows by now, these melodramas are given before an audience of playgoers seated around little tables and plied with free cold beer. Hisses, boos, cheers and general comments are encouraged; in fact, the audience is so much a part of the production that if it sits on its hands, so to speak, the evening's proceedings can seem weightily indeed.

Unfortunately, at the opening performance on Friday night, the Players had an audience which did not rise to the occasion as well as it might have, even when the beer began to flow. The result was an evening that never seemed to get off the floor and bounce, as last year's Players' melodrama did right from the start.

Perhaps one problem is the play itself. It is not only verbose, it is more serious in theme than the usual dastardly-villain, innocent-heroine melodrama and these two factors make light-hearted audience response a bit difficult.

The play does, however, have three splendid melo-dramatists who bite into it with relish: Emily Stuart, Irving Van Zandt, and Lorin Zissman portray the child stealer, the gambler and the notorious thief with a tremendous ease and energy that chews the scenery as it should be chewed.

The arched and villainous eyebrow, the anguished bosom, the finch-like laugh, all come across in fine style. John Becker has a two-minute walk-on, wordless and hilarious.

For the intermission acts, the "Olio," this year's production offers songs by Ashby Adams, a soft-shoe dance, and songs by a female actor which refers to himself as "The Opposite Sextette." Dr. Adams, wearing a derby and an aquenly checked suit, sings "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now" and "Little Annie Rooney" in a fine tenor which makes his appearance one of the highlights of the evening.

"Strolling in the Park One Day" is a soft-shoe dance done by Peg Callaway, John, Johnny and Jamie Mueller, Peter Callaway and Peggy Ewyer. It is a gently humorous number, quiet in style and costumed for spring with all-white dresses and suits and occasional pink in a tutu.

The eight ladies of the "Sextette" (so who counts?) are dressed primly as Gibson girls and although they sing "Ta-Ra-Ru-Boom-De-Ay" they are more at home with "Sleep, Kentucky Babe."

This reviewer missed the exuberant gusto of last year's intermission can-can dancers and singing waiters, but others may find the two-key Olio offerings this year quite to their taste.

Peter Cook and Hugh Hardy have designed a caricature of a prison, a thieves' cellar, a bar and a dance hall which suggest poverty and riches and still leave the players enough space to move around in. Jean Dunn's costumes are demure or dastardly as the mood requires — pink sash for heroine, black suit for villain, black lace garters to hold up the sleeves of waiters and piano players.

In the orchestra pit, Horbert Holber at the piano (it will be Walter Johnson this weekend) and Charlie Stuart at the drums beat out a steady rhythm for dancers and singers. Trombones and trumpet follow along in close harmony — but the brasses could use a little more close harmony. Saturday night's audience stepped into its participating role from the opening curtain, moved throughout the evening was one of constant enjoyment. With the word spreading quickly, this weekend's performances are ready solidly sold out.

Last chance: the added performance on Saturday, May 30. Tickets (and table reservations) $2 each at the University Store. —Continued on Page 6

FALL PLANS ANNOUNCED

By Dana Productions. A full roster of five programs to be held next fall in McCarter Theatre was announced this week by Dana Productions. W. W. Lockwood, Jr., and T. B. Sternberg, producers of Dana Productions, are currently in the process of incorporation.

Highlights of the Fall program will be "Dear Liar," starring Katharine Cornell and Brian Aherne, and "Mark Twain Tonight," starring Hal Holbrook. "Dear Liar," a dramatization based upon the correspondence of George Bernard Shaw and Mrs. Patrick Campbell, is being presented under the banner of Impresario S. Hark. Mr. Holbrook's show, currently a hit on Broadway, has been awarded both the Vernon Rice and the Outer Critics Circle Awards for the 1958-59 season.

Other programs scheduled by Dana Productions will include football weekend performances by The Weavers, folk song artist Pete Seeger, and a return engagement by flamenco guitarist Carlos Montoya.

Final offering of Dana Productions for this season is "A Love-Ly Light," to be presented Friday, June 12, at McCarter Theatre. A portrait of Edna St. Vincent Millay, the show stars Dorothy Stickney and is directed by Howard Lindsay. Tickets are available at the University Store and by mail from Dana Productions, Box 3, Princeton.

N. Y. CAST PLANS VISIT

Will Be Here Friday. Members of the cast of the new Broadway musical, "The Nervous Set," will present an informal program this Friday afternoon at 2:40 in Murray Theatre. The performance is being sponsored by Lamphole Productions and Theatre Intime.

"The Nervous Set," which opened last week, is described as a "very portrait of Greenwich Village beatniks." In Friday's program, members of the cast will do skits from the show, talk about the "beat generation" and sing some of the show's hit songs. Tickets, at $1 each, will be sold at the door.

THE PLAYHOUSE

The Mating Game (May 20-23) is an amusing, unpretentious little summer farce which isn't going to win any Academy Awards—even if anyone can remember it by next spring—but which provides a pleasant excuse for a night at the movies. Paul Douglas is a Maryland farmer who has reached a high level of material prosperity through the old-fashioned barter system. Since he receives no money in these transactions he has never bothered to file income tax returns. This is brought to the attention of the Feds, in the person of Tony Randall, by a jealous neighbor.

When Randall shows up at the farm, Douglas tries to get his mind off finance by interesting the revenue officer in the charms of his mobile offspring, Debbie Reynolds. This leads to a modicum of innocently sexy fun, and the film winds up with Randall and Miss Reynolds decorously seeking happiness in the haystack.

The acting is sprightly and adequate, although your enjoyment of Miss Reynolds, the perennial teenager, will depend largely on whether or not you like perennial teenagers. Douglas is competent and Randall, who resembles a boss tweedy Ozon Bean, appears satisfactorily confused. Fred Clark is excellent as the non-sense Internal Revenue man sent to replace Randall. "Mating Game" is in CinemaScope and MetroColor.

Count Your Blessings (May 24-26) is another of Hollywood's cute, weightless attempts to appeal to the real or mythical "women's audience," and we suppose it will appeal to those who number themselves among this group. For us, however, the film is more than a bit too charming.

ALL THAT DRIPS, DRIES

At Rosette Pennington. We never knew a bathing suit yet that didn't drip dry, in time, but the ones a Rosette Pennington make a specialty of it.

Here at the Shopping Center store we found an Arnel drip dry suit, so formal you expect to find long white gloves with it. Comes in solid colors only (gold, aqua) and has a flaring skirt with widely spaced horizontal ribbing.

Another suit has a short sarong skirt (hoops up to one hip) and elasticized sides. It comes in a pineapple print of gold or green.

A cotton bathing suit has a very short skirt with permanent knite pleats and a matching calf-length skirt in the same purple and pink print. You can wear this over your bathing suit when you go back to your hotel for lunch. Mind you keep sand out of the suit.

Shorts that really fit, in sizes up to 16, come in an unusual warm olive green, myrtle blue or lavender. They are $16. For $5, you may have drip-dry shorts with muslin-lined seams in sailor blue, green, tan, pale gold and for $1, shorts in black or khaki. Skirts for summer are straight, wrap-around or flare in linen and drip-dry cotton.

Blouses are tailored or feminine and sometimes both. Consider the sleeveless one with stripes in shades of gold, or the white one with pale green, blue, beige or grey satin stitch embroidery (including scallops) on both sides of its convertible collar. ($4). Another white blouse has pink or blue cross stitched flowers in panels down the front, starting at its high round collar.

The trim one appears again in a roush print dress ($5) with insertions of lace going up and down the bodice. One model is demure in front and another in back, with a deep, low neckline. Another model has satin piping around a square neck.

In quite a different vein is the dark cotton, straight as a pencil mark, with a flat bow in black satin at the neckline. The streamer of the bow is a flat piece of ribbon sewn all the way down to hemline. A white pique dickey fills in the scoop neck.

For $11, Rosette Pennington presents a black and loast cotton print dress which combines polka dots and squares in a pleasant and off-beat manner.

Watches and Glass. Blenko and Fenton glassware are as much in stock as the watchmaker's skill in the shop of the Village Watchmaker, Kingston.

The watchmaker, Mr. Sineak, has his workbench on a sunny porch which also serves as a display room for a varied collection of colorful Blenko glassware. The pieces have been arranged on window shelves so that they catch the sun and the eye of the passing motorist.

Blenko, as you know, is hand-blown glassware, some of it cracked by being dipped in cold water when it's still hot. It comes clear and plain, too, in a wonderful assortment of sizes, shapes, curves, spirals, straight lines and luminous colors.

For example, the Village Watchmaker has a glass dumb-bell in amber, a full-bodied turquoise pitcher, a 15-inch-high goblet in deep burnt orange with a clear glass stem which encases a crystal spiral. A long decanter, like a pulled piece of taffy, has a tear-drop stopper.

Oriental seductresses, slant-eyed and smelling of sandalwood, used to pose behind beaded curtains in the old silent movies. (At least, we suppose they smelled of sandalwood; it was a little hard to tell what odor some of the old movies did have.)

Now you may add seduction to your own home by beaded curtains used as room dividers, curtains, or draperies. Home Decor in the Princeton Shopping Center has them. Unbreakable plastic in ten solid colors or in four combinations of stripes. By "stripes," of course, we mean three or four strands of beads in one color, then two strands in another, and so on.

These stripes come in white orange, yellow, white, bronze, avocado; white, pink, turquoise; white, purple, pink.

The beads are plastic, very much like pop-head necklaces in appearance. You buy them by the square foot ($3.25 per sq. ft.) and the price includes the rod.

bowl of clear glass, deep lime green and shaped like a horn. All these pieces are Blenko's suggested prices.

For people who prefer the traditional, the Watchmaker has Fenton glassware, most of it milk glass, plain or hobnail in style. Some of the pieces have ruby overlay against the white, others have a border of clear glass fluting against the opaque milk glass.

In the Fenton line, you'll find compotes, square candy dishes on pedestals, unique candlesticks shaped like cornucopias, a very popular chip-n-dip plate, pitchers in all sizes and shapes and some handsome goblets.

There is a coin-dot pattern which you'll like if you want to bring something different into your milk glass collection. It consists of clear crystal circles embedded in the white milk glass.

The Watchmaker has also acquired a collection of polished stones which he uses for jewelry. These are not gem stones — just attractive pieces of rock, perhaps with unusual striations or colors. Poke around in the collection, choose the pieces you like and ask the Watchmaker to set them into earrings, a pendant or a tie clasp.

ingly sentimental. "Count Your Blessings" is an attractive Metro-Color and CinemaScope, with music scenes of London, Paris and their environs amiably presented. The stars are Deborah Kerr, Rossano Brazzi and Maurice Chevalier.

Miss Kerr unsurprisingly takes the part of a reserved, cool Englishwoman who is really, you see, quite passionate under that unresponsive exterior. When a Frenchman, meets her to bring news of her reserved, cool English fiancé, Rella Ring. The two are married and before long a little stanger arrives. But things don't get right for the first time. Miss Kerr's archiepiscopal Englishness and Brazzi's appalling Frenchness lead to friction. Add to this the unattractive personality of their young son, Martin Stephens, who feels he'd benefit from a spill, and obviously we have a marriage headed for the rocks. But not there is a modifier. In the person of Brazzi's kindly, twinkling uncle, Maurice Chevalier.

It won't be given away too large a secret to reveal that all this results in a happy ending for the characters if not for the audience. The film does, however, have a couple of points in its favor: the photography is pretty, and it's suitable for children of all ages.

Warlock (May 27-30) has nothing to do with male witches; it is the name of a Western town which is the site of the picture. Starring Richard Widmark, Henry Fonda, Anthony Quinn, Dorothy Malone and Deborah Kerr, and produced in CinemaScope and DeLuxe Color, this is undoubtedly one of the largest, most expensive Western films ever produced. It is a fast-paced, capably acted run-through of a cliché-ridden script that sounds as if it were commissioned after all the other expenses were met.

THE GARDEN
The Two-headed Spy (May 21-23), starring Jack Hawkins and Gina Scola, is an engaging and well-paced British import in which the two principals portray Allied agents engaged in espionage behind the German lines in World War II. Hawkins is a Nazi general who keeps up a veneer of loyalty to the Führer while spiraling out information to his English compatriots. The luscious Miss Scola, Hawkins' mistress, serves the cause of democracy by singing songs with coded lyrics over the Axis radio.

"The Two-headed Spy," a Columbia release, was directed by Andre De Toth from a screenplay by James O'Donnell. One of the film's most ironical scenes occurs when Hawkins convinces Hitler that a group of the Führer's top military advisers, loyal Nazis all, are in reality dangerous subversives who must be liquidated. While it is no "Bridge on the River Kwai," this film is a substantial vehicle for Hawkins' varied and genuine talents.

Seven Brides for Seven Brothers (May 21-23) is an amusing Technicolor romp starring Jane Powell, Howard Keel and Russ Tamblyn, all of whom perform tunefully and enthusiastically. The film is being presented in conjunction with the Garden's spring policy of reviving successful pictures from past years on Mondays.

Apurajito (May 26-30) is the second segment of the projected filmic trilogy that began with the excellent "Father Pandolfi." The cast is essentially the same as that of "Father," and Director Satyajit Ray has again elicited a moving and important portrait of the lives and aspirations of modern Indians. The picture was produced in India with an entirely Indian cast. The slice-of-life technique leads to some slow stretches from time to time, but its affecting adventures make it well worth waiting through these.

This is not escape fare; it is simply one of the best movies of the generation. Recommended.

It's New To Us

that tired old kitchen window. It's a quarter circle of ruffled fabric that makes a fan-shaped curtain for the top half of your window. Makes the window look as though it had a winking eye. Comes in sheer with fluffed dots.

A cousin to the sunburst curtain is the balloon skirt, which is the harem skirt you've seen in dresses. You may have the balloon effect in valance or balloon skirt.

More formal windows may now have white draperies with Austrian blinds that roll up like a window shade. They are sized for single or double with windows. Windows that take to draperies will take to some drapery machine, washable, cottons designed for almost any room. Some are traditional floral prints in rose, yellow or blue. Others are "freedpoint" in dark green or brown or natural; others are honest plaids that not Scotch tartans in groups or bands. Home Decor also has burly drapes now in orange, black, green or gold.

This year's bamboo cafe curtains are tweedy in appearance. Tan, red, green in a kind of quarter-point that makes them look like tweed.

at Home Decor for some beach towels. Two Nabish ones show a shuddering figure — man on a towel, woman on another — with the greeting, "Morning, Gorgeous."

The hairiest, knobliest cave man you ever saw invites you from one beach towel. A polar bear keeps cool on another, and a cat face decorates a third. There is also Lili Abner, not only on a beach towel, but on the matching poncho as well.

Shine With Roto-Shine, An electric shoe-polisher, made by the Ronson lighter people, is now available to those in this area who have dull shoes. There is a kit consisting of brushes, buffers and polish for black or brown shoes, and a snap-in socket which permits a quick change from harsh to buffer.

The Roto-Shine is a hand tool and you carry it around as you would an electric razor, being careful of course, to use it on shoe and not on your face. You order a Roto-Shine by writing to The Shack, Box 371, Kingston, and enclosing a check for $18.95.

Major Honor For Two

Election to the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, one of the nation's oldest and most distinguished honorary societies, came this week to two Princetonians. They are Dr. Harold W. Dodds, president of the University for 24 years until his retirement in 1957, and P. Jefferson Conkwright, typographer of the Princeton University Press and lecturer in graphic arts at the University.

Dr. Dodds is one of 13 new members honored under the heading of "Administration and Affairs." He is currently carrying forward a two-year study of the office of the American college president with support from the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.

Mr. Conkwright, one of the nation's outstanding book designers, was honored in "Fine Arts and Literature" with 11 other well-known Americans including artist Ben Shahn of nearby Roosevelt. Responsible for the design of "The Papers of Thomas Jefferson," a 52-volume project, and numerous other achievements in his field, Mr. Conkwright has been at the University Press since 1937.

ship-Pennington Borough district was announced last week.

Mr. Walton has served in the West Windsor district since 1953, discharging duties in both the Dutch Neck and Penn Neck Schools as assistant to Mr. Sandilios. The greater part of his time has been spent in Dutch Neck as both teaching and later non-teaching principal.

An Army veteran of World War II, during which he was three times decorated for service with the 42d "Rainbow" Division, Mr. Walton is a cum laude graduate of La Salle College. He also holds a master's degree in elementary education and administration from Temple University.

The new superintendent has attended board of education meetings in his capacity as assistant to Mr. Sandilios, and the board feels certain "that the transition in administration can be achieved with minimum difficulty" in view of his existing knowledge of its affairs. Mr. and Mrs. Walton live in Grovers Mill with their daughter, Claire Ellen, and are expecting a second child in November.

Mrs. Roosevelt at ETS

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt will come to Princeton this Friday to speak to members of the staff of Educational Testing Service as one of the lecturers in the ETS lecture series.

She will spend the day in Princeton, starting with a morning visit to "Prospect," where she will be greeted by President Robert F. Gohsen and Mrs. Gohsen. She will meet informally with a small group of Princeton faculty members and students at the Woodrow Wilson School and after lunch, she will deliver an informal lecture in the ETS cafeteria. It is expected that Mrs. Roosevelt will discuss several topics of general interest, including observations on her recent trips to Russia and the Middle East.

Because of the limited space available in ETS's Rosedale cafeteria, Mrs. Roosevelt's lecture will be open to staff members only.

WITHER TAXATION? Without specifying which it should be, the Republican State Committee decided last week that New Jersey needs either an income tax or a sales tax to avoid a budget deficit. Princetonians Nicky Proccacio (left) and Paul Sweeney strongly prefer the income tax if new revenue must be found. For other views, see below. (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: If New Jersey must produce a new form of revenue, as now seems indicated, would you prefer a sales tax or an income tax?

Where asked: Around town.

Harold J. Schuster, 4 Hawthorne Avenue, salesmanager: I'd rather have a sales tax. I think the sales tax spread the overall cost of government much more readily than does an income tax. The distribution of revenue is far more equal under a sales tax than from income tax.

Paul J. Strayer, 114 Prospect Avenue, Princeton Professor of Economics: I prefer an income tax. I think it's a fairer, more equitable tax. We may end up in New Jersey by getting both, but I would much prefer to see a tax on income, which exempts the very low wage earner.

Nicky Proccacio, 299 Witherspoon Street, janitor: I'd say an income tax. It's better to have them take the money out of your income than for them to keep jackknifing up prices. Prices are sky high already.

Mrs. Patricia C. Gray, 349 Walnut Lane, free-lance writer: We're rather loaded with federal payroll deductions as it is, so I'd prefer a sales tax. One of the reasons that my husband and I don't live in New York is the state income tax. With a sales tax, it depends on the items that you buy whether you pay much tax. A person therefore has a choice with the sales tax. I certainly feel that the sales tax is the lesser of two evils.

Mrs. Nornia Hay, 169 Snowden Lane, housewife: I prefer a sales tax. A sales tax puts people on a sort of spend-it-as-you-get-it basis.

Paul Sweeney, 15 Bank Street, bartender at Ivy Inn: An income tax is better. The cost of living is too high already; everything is so dear. The dollar isn't worth a dollar today, as it is. If they raise prices with a sales tax, it'll be worth even less.

Mrs. Bernice Frank, 273 Jefferson Road, housewife: I think the most equitable would be an income tax. Levied proportionately, it would meet the needs of the State best, and would tax more heavily those people who can most afford to be taxed. Sales taxes reach lower income groups and a higher proportion of their income would go for taxes than that of higher wage earners. This seems unfair.

Mrs. Nancy Ashton, Cold Soil Road, housewife: I favor a sales

Tax Choice

The state Republican party, in its platform meeting last week, decided that New Jersey must forsake its reputation as a low-tax state in order to head off an impending deficit in state finances. New Jersey, which has one of the lowest per capita tax rates in the nation, has never had a state income tax and hasn't used a sales tax since the 1930's.

Both parties have stood firm against the introduction of either of these taxes, and the overwhelming majority of state funds have continued to come from property taxes. Now, foreseeing a "conducatory rise" in property taxes, the G.O.P. has dropped its 22-year-old anti-tax plank and voted to study the possibility of new tax sources. The Democrats decided to retain their anti-tax plank at a simultaneous meeting.

If new taxes come, should they be in the form of income or sales assessments, Economists say the burden of income taxes, which are graduated, fall most heavily on the already well-taxed higher income groups. Sales taxes hit the overall cost of living, affecting most those who have little to spend, and create a nuisance for everyone by necessitating odd-change purchases. The views of Princetonians on the desirability of one tax over the other are presented on this page.

tax. I have enough trouble with the federal income tax people as it is. A sales tax would be sufficient to meet the needs of the state.

Robert Wern, 106 Nassau Street, English teacher at Douglass College: An income tax, primarily because a sales tax is unfair since it hits hardest the incomes that are smallest. However, I would like to express the strong feeling that New Jersey should initiate some kind of tax in the near future. By refusing to give proper consideration to taxation, the citizens and the legislature are neglecting a very great area of the State's responsibility.

Mrs. Cynthia Armour, 91 Allison Road, housewife: An income tax because it's easier to pay all at one time. An income tax is paid by everyone, while, with a sales tax, some people pay more than others.

Clarence Updike, Province Line Road, retired farmer: A sales tax. That would hit everyone. The federal government is getting enough income tax out of us now; we don't need any more taxation on incomes.

A WALK OF LILACS: Along this 300-foot alley are some 30 varieties of lilacs, in full, fragrant and colorful bloom this time each spring. In the foreground are white specimens and in the background, the darker, royal purple ones. Customers of French Flower Market have probably taken home a spray of lilacs from this walk because Mrs. Leditia Laughlin, whose garden this is, contributes lilacs branches to the Market every year. For more information on the lilac collection, see story below. (Staff Photo)

LILACS AS A HOBBY

For Scents and Color, Gardening is a hobby enjoyed by many Princeton residents and those who enjoy it frequently become specialists in one particular plant. One of these specialists is Mrs. Leditia L. Laughlin whose lilacs give a spectacular display of scent and color this time each spring. Mrs. Laughlin has been collecting lilacs for her gardens on Dulles Corner Road since 1937. In the 22 years since she bought her first, she has acquired over 30 different varieties, most of them planted in two parallel rows to make an alley, almost 300 feet long. It is one of the best-known collections in this area and is an unusually extensive one for an amateur gardener.

Starting with President Lincoln, the bluest and earliest of the French hybrid lilacs, Mrs. Laughlin has continuous bloom along her lilac walk from about May 7 until early June.

"One of my favorites actually blooms twice a year," Mrs. Laughlin says, "it's the microphylla, with pale pink blossoms and it comes out in spring and fall, although not quite so fully in September or October as it does in May."

"This lilac is not part of the walk," Mrs. Laughlin has planted it near a terrace close to the house.

Along the walk are the deep royal purple of Louisburg Spaeth and the slightly lighter purple of Madame F. Morel. Lucie Hollet, pinkish of the French hybrid, is in the collection, too, and so is President Grey, a robust blue lilac in bloom now, just past mid-May.

The walk was planted, of course, to be a succession of bloom throughout the season and there is continuous shifting gradation of color and shade as each variety blooms and dies.

Reflexa, the so-called "Nodding Lilac" is one of the latest. Madame Antoine Bachauer, a pale blue rose, is perhaps one of the most interesting because of its "haze."

Vestale, a single white lilac with bright yellow center (lilacs come in double or single flowered varieties) makes a vivid foil for the deep royal purples or the pale violet shades. Edith Cavell, a double white lilac, is one of the newest additions to the Laughlin collection. Most of Mrs. Laughlin's recent purchases have been white ones.

Mrs. Laughlin has made a thorough study of the cultural requirements of her lilacs, experimenting with various mulching, fertilizing, pruning and spraying techniques until she has found the correct ones that insure full, deep, healthy panicles each year.

"Why do I collect lilacs?" Well, "I don't really know why," she says, "except that they are so beautiful and so fragrant. When they're in bloom, that delicate secret comes right in the open windows of the house. It's one of the most rewarding plants you can grow."

BUSINESS In Princeton

SHELTON MOTORS TO MOVE

To Route 286, Announcement is expected to be made shortly of a projected move to State Road 286 by Shelton Motors. The Chrysler-DeSoto-Plymouth firm has been located at 300 Witherspoon Street since it was established over a decade ago.

The new site is in Princeton Township, on the right hand side of the State Highway, some 800 to 1,000 feet beyond the Mary Watts store. Identity of the owner selling the land to the automobile firm has not been disclosed.

Expansion of Shelton Motors' sales and service facilities will be made possible by the move. Fire last winter destroyed much of the building at 300 Witherspoon Street, in which service operations had been carried on, and all activity has been headquartered at 300 Witherspoon since that time.

PLAN MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Of Princeton Business Assn. Plans for a membership drive to begin Monday were announced this week by Lorr L. Quicke, president of the Princeton Business Association. The drive, which will be headed by John H. Houghton, will seek 150 new members. A mail solicitation will go to all businessmen who are not now members of the PBA and there will also be club coverage of many business houses.

Particular emphasis will be laid on obtaining members from industrial and professional research organizations, Mr. Quicke said. He pointed out that the PBA is the only group actively fostering the best interest of the Princeton community, serving as a combination chamber of commerce, board of trade and community betterment group. The membership fee is only $25 a year, he added.

Acquisition of new members, Mr. Quicke said, will enable the PBA to expand and improve its program of services to the community. In line with this program, the PBA has named Theodore S. Reed as chairman of the Credit Risk File. Mr. Reed will bring the file up to date so that fresh credit information on Princeton residents will be instantly available to members of the PBA.

MUSIC In Princeton

BAND CONCERT SUNDAY

At Princeton High School. A concert, open to the public, will be given Sunday at 4 in the Princeton High School auditorium. Participants under the direction of Louis K. Richards will be the high school bands—concert and symphonic—and the orchestra.

To commemorate the bicentennial of Handel's death, the Concert Band will play "Care Selve" and the orchestra two movements from "Water Music." The latter composition, so named because it was first played by an orchestra floating on barges down the Thames River, is one of Handel's best known.

The orchestra will also be heard in "Bakery March, Kettle Lament" by J. H. Foulds and the "South American Overture," arranged by Harold Parr. The violin will play a solo part of "Perpetual Motion" from memory, while Susanne Bowles will be heard in a harp solo, "Impromptu Caprice."

Additional selections by the Concert Band will include "See Ya'll Trail," "Prayer and Dream Pentameter" and "First Suite in F Flat" of a march by S. Hukil. The Symphonietta Band will play

PEOPLE In the News

FOUR TO RETIRE

From Department of Geology. The retirement of four members of the Department of Geology of Princeton University was announced this week. All four will end their careers on the faculty at the end of the current academic year, an unusual number at the same time from one department.

Alphabetically listed, they are: Dr. Arthur Francis Buddington, Dr. Benjamin Franklin Howell, Dr. Paul MacClintock and Dr. Edward Sampson. Together they have engaged in teaching and research at Princeton for a total of 134 years.

Dr. Buddington, a member of the Princeton faculty since 1929, was head of the Department of Geology from 1936 to 1950. A specialist in petrology and chemical geology, he relinquished the chairmanship in order to devote more time to research while continuing his teaching. His more recent research has been concerned with the role of mineralogy in the interpretation of magnetic anomalies and of paleomagnetic data.

A former president of the Mineralogical Society of America and a member of many scientific and educational societies, Dr. Buddington has written extensively for technical publications. He is a graduate of Brown University, received his Ph.D. degree from Princeton in 1916 and an honorary LL.D. degree from Franklin and Marshall College in 1958.

Howell Here Since 1915. Dr. Howell, professor of geology and paleontology, joined the faculty in 1915 and since 1924 has been curator of invertebrate paleontology and stratigraphy. An authority on the paleontology of the Cambrian period, he has been largely responsible for assembling at Princeton the second largest collection of Cambrian fossils in the world.

A former editor of several scientific journals and author of more than 200 papers in his field, Dr. Howell has frequently been a consultant to state and national geologic surveys. He was a founder of the International Paleontological Union and is a member of many other scientific societies. A member of the Princeton Class of 1913, he was awarded the annual class cup in 1947 in recognition of his distinguished scientific contributions. He received his Ph.D. degree from Princeton in 1920.

Dr. MacClintock came to Princeton in 1938 as Knox Taylor Professor of Geography. An authority on glacial geology and geomorphology, he is currently preparing a study of the glacial history of northeastern North America. The project has been supported since 1952 by the New York State Geological Survey for its practical use in the construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway. Prior to coming to Princeton, he was for 18 years a member of the faculty of the University of Chicago. He also belongs to several scientific societies.

Dr. Sampson, a member of the faculty since 1925, is a former chairman of the department and has been curator of economic geology since 1926. Widely known for his studies of the relationship between the world's mineral resources and international affairs, he was a member of the U.S. Geological Survey in the Section of Mineral Deposits beginning in 1920, and conducted detailed studies in the Pacific during World War II. He was awarded the Medal of Freedom for his war services.

During Dr. Sampson's curatorship about 10,000 carefully prepared specimens, used for demonstration purposes in teaching economic geology, have been added to the department's collection.

tion. Most of these have been collected by Dr. Sampson in many parts of the world. He is a former officer of several professional organizations and a member of many scientific societies. He received a degree of civil engineering in 1914, an M.S. degree in 1915 and a D.Sc. in 1920, all from Princeton.

Dr. Frank W. Notestein, professor of demography at Princeton University, has been elected president of the Population Council, a national organization devoted to promoting better understanding of population questions throughout the world. Dr. Notestein, director of the university's Office of Population Research since its founding in 1936, succeeds Gen. Frederick H. Brown, Princeton '10 and a charter trustee of the university. Dr. Notestein will assume his new office July 1. Gen. Osborn will remain with the Population Council as a trustee and chairman of the executive committee.

Succeeding Dr. Notestein as director of the university's Office of Population Research will be Dr. Ansley Johnson Coale, professor in the Department of Economics and Sociology. Dr. Coale, a member of the faculty since 1947, has been assistant director of the Office of Population Research.

Mrs. E. Baldwin Smith, 21 Prospect Avenue, will be guest of honor at a luncheon Sunday, May 31, at Bryn Mawr College. The luncheon, which will be attended by members of all reunion classes, will be given by Mrs. J. Nathaniel Marshall acting president of Bryn Mawr, at the Denary. Mrs. Smith is president of the Bryn Mawr Alumnae Association.

Erik R. Eybye, 6 Littlebrook Road, has accepted a position in the International Division of the Ford Motor Company and will be stationed at the company's office in Jersey City. Mr. Eybye, who has just completed a tour of duty as lieutenant j.g. in the Navy, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Eybye. Thomas G. Eybye, prior to his retirement two years ago, was regional director in charge of Ford's activities in Latin America, the Orient and other parts of the world.

Gilbert R. Rowan, Rosedale Road, has been awarded a Harvard College scholarship. Mr.

Rowan, who will enter Harvard next Fall, is attending Lawrenceville School. The scholarship was awarded on the basis of high academic and personal promise.

Dr. Carroll C. Pratt, 114 Broadmead, Professor of Psychology at Princeton University, spoke at Stanford University last week before the California division of the American Society for Aesthetics. One of the co-founders of the society, and a former president, Dr. Pratt is visiting professor during the present semester at the University of California in Berkeley. In his address, he dealt with recent efforts made to formulate an adequate psychological answer to the degree in which emotion and mood are present in the perception of works of art.

SPORTS In Princeton

SEASON NEARS ITS END
Spring Schedules About Over. The approach of term-end examinations means the end of spring sports activity this Saturday for most Princeton teams. Exceptions are in baseball and crew, although there is nothing on the water until the national regatta is staged at Syracuse on June 20.

The most important event this weekend is set for Ilhaca, where Princeton hopes to win its third straight Ivy title in lacrosse. Cornell has matched the Tigers with a 4-0 record, but teams having defeated Dartmouth, Harvard, Pennsylvania and Yale. Brown and Columbia do not field teams in this sport.

Palmer Stadium will be the scene of track action involving five teams. A triangular meet will be staged among Army, Penn and Princeton at 2 o'clock while the Quaker and Tiger freshmen will compete between varsity events. Whereas the Orange and Black varsity will do well to finish second, the Tiger boys are favored to win a 4 and end their season with a perfect 8-0 mark.

A pair of baseball games is set for University Field. The strong University of Delaware will be here Friday at 4, intent on adding Princeton to its lengthening list of victims as a stepping stone to an NCAA berth. Pennsylvania is due Saturday at 2:30 in an Ivy League contest. The Quakers will also provide the opposition in golf, facing Princeton on the Stringfellow course at 1:30, while Cornell ends the tennis team's season on the Church Courts at 2:30.

CREWS LOSE

As Harvard takes a 1-0 lead, a picture-book finish that capped a long, often-dramatic day of racing won the Eastern Sprint Championship for Harvard's crew Saturday afternoon on Lake Carnegie. A crowd estimated at upwards of 10,000 packed the spacious, sloping banks and enjoyed the bright, cool setting provided by the cooperative Weather Man.

Princeton's varsity was eliminated in the morning heat, losing in surprising fashion to Massachusetts Tech. The Tigers had beaten the M.I.T. shell by four lengths over a mile and three-quarter course earlier this month but not as good on Saturday.

Five Win Letters

Six residents of the Princeton area have been awarded letters or numerals for their ability in hockey during the past season and a sixth won a managerial award.

Varsity insignia have gone to Peter H. Cook of Kingston (for the second time) and Lance R. Olden, 30 Armour Road, David H. Peterson, Glenmoore Farm, Hopewell, won a junior varsity letter, while freshman numerals were won by William R. Kales, 3d. S. Morven Place, and John T. Woodward, 15 Hodge Road. All five learned their early hockey at Princeton Country Day School.

Kenneth C. Scasserra won a junior varsity managerial letter. He is a resident of the Princeton-Kingston Road.

Tech's margin was about a quarter of a length.

Harvard won its morning heat with M.I.T. and Princeton, returning to the water in the afternoon to stage a fine performance that just nipped Syracuse at the finish. The Orange had a slight lead going into the final 200 yards, Harvard drawing even and then gaining a lead of about four feet at the final flag.

The Crimson, winning for the first time in ten years, was timed in 6:03.1 for the 2,000 meters, with Syracuse just three-fifths of a second slower. Yale, the defending champion, was third, with Penn fourth.

Other victors were Pennsylvania's junior varsity, an all-sophomore outfit which will make its presence felt at the varsity level during the next two years, and Cornell's freshmen. Harvard won the Rows Cup, awarded on points for best-all-around showing.

Princeton's freshmen and junior varsity both won their consolation heats after having placed second in the morning races. The Tigers' Class of '62 shell came from fourth to first in the final 1,000 meters to nip Yale by a deck length.

Jaycees' Win at Cambridge. Victory in the junior varsity race by Princeton kept Harvard from repeating its sweep of the river in the 150-lb. championships on the Charles River. The Tiger seconds edged Cornell by a deck length, with four other lightweight crews trailing.

Harvard led runner-up Dartmouth by a length and a half in the varsity event, keeping the Wright Cup, with Princeton third. The Tiger freshmen were second to the Crimson in their race.

CLOSE CALL IN LACROSSE

Dartmouth barely beaten, 6-5. The comparative scores indicated a relatively easy Princeton victory but Dartmouth's big, rugged lacrosse team had other thoughts and nearly translated them into actuality. The Indians held a 2-1 lead after 15 minutes and erased a two-goal deficit in the final round to draw even at 5-5.

With the clock running out and the possibility of overtime looming, Captain Johnny Heyd took charge. Circling in from the left of the visitors' cage, he fired a hard, high shot from 25 feet out that found the mark and made it a 6-5 final.

Princeton controlled the ball for long periods of time, but its attack was not functioning in sharp fashion, Dartmouth often intercepting passes launched from behind the Indian goal. The losers' tendency to commit errors which cost them possession was a basic factor in determining the outcome.

Earlier in the week, Rutgers took home a mud-spattered 9-6 triumph that was achieved on University Field in a steady down-pour. A five-goal second period --Continued on Page 24 told the story, the Scarlet defeating Princeton for the second time in as many years.

BALL TEAM BEATEN

At Hanover, Princeton's record in the Eastern Baseball League dropped back to 3-3 Saturday as the Tiger nine ran into trouble at Hanover. Dartmouth triumphed, 5-3, largely on the strength of a four-run third inning.

Herm Belz allowed only three hits, but one was a triple with two aboard. They all came in the third inning and were combined with a pair of left field walks, resulting in more of a deficit than the Tigers could overcome.

Carl Belz tripped in the second round, scoring on an infield out, and then homered with Nix and Tipeton on first and two away in the third. The Tigers reverted to defensive lapses, committing four errors, with two of the victors' five runs listed as unearned. Art Quirk was the winning pitcher, rolling up his fifth strikeout in league action. Last year, blanked the Tigers on University Field, 5-0.

OTHER RESULTS

Track. — In Philadelphia's last, inability to win a single event in the Heptagonal Track Meet at New Haven concluded to Princeton's last-place finish Saturday. Yale won the 25th anniversary meet with 41 points; eight other teams trailed the Elis, but finished ahead of the Tigers, whose total was a mere 6 1/2.

Sophomore Dick Edmunds was beaten for the first time this season, as he finished second in the 100, which was won in 48 seconds — slower than Edmunds has run several times this spring. A tie for third in the high jump and a fifth in the broad jump were Princeton's only other point-scoring performances.

Golfers Win. It required only an average round of 73 for four Princetonians to win the Metropolitan Inter-collegiate title. Twenty-one teams from the New York area took part in the one-day tournament last Wednesday on Long Island.

The Tigers compiled a four-man total of 219, five strokes under par on 10 holes. On Saturday, they defeated Navy, 6-1, on Springdale.

THIRD SHOTOUT BY LUCKEY

This Pitcher Blanks Stenert. Jack Luckey raised Princeton High School's baseball record to 6-3 last Friday with a 3-0 victory over Summit High. It was the Little Tiger southpaw's third whitewash job and fourth victory at the season.

Luckey limited 11 visiting batters and limited them to a pair of hits. His mates collected only three safeties, but a bases-loaded blow in the second by Boyd Bergen was good for two runs. An insurance marker was added in the third when shortstop Jack Hawkins crossed the plate.

Hoovers Help Trenton High. A pair of home runs helped Trenton High School tie the Elis and White on the TBS diamond Monday. It was a close 4-3 contest, the Little Tigers pushing one run across in the top of the seventh only to see the rally die with the tying run on third.

Princeton High took a 2-0 lead before a man was retired as Floyd Bergen and Ray Cranston, who head walked, rode home on Rick Harford's triple. A solo homer off Jack Hawkins, on the mound

PAC Lists Practices

Four practice sessions have been scheduled by the Princeton Athletic Club baseball team, which will begin its season Tuesday, June 9.

The drills will be held at 6:15 p.m. on the Princeton High School diamond and are open to all players of high school age or over. William Chauncey is the team manager.

Montgomery, South Brunswick and Sonny Pine are the other members of the Tri-County League. Twilight games are played twice a week, with home contests on Brookav Field.

For PHS, got one of these back in the bottom of the first and a two-run second made it 3-2 for the Tornadoes.

A circuit blow by Trenton's Bob Hall that traveled more than 400 feet gave the home team a 4-2 margin before the Little Tigers came close to deadlocking the contest in the seventh. Olson and King walked, moving up on a sacrifice. An infield out pushed one run over but the rally died on another ground out to second.

Three straight road games confront the Blue and White nine before it ends its season here against Somerville on May 29. Return contests are scheduled against Hamilton High this Friday, Hunterdon Regional on Monday and Steiner next Wednesday. The record shows a 5-3 triumph over Hamilton in the first game between the teams, and a 7-3 loss to Hunterdon. For results of Tuesday's game against Trenton Catholic, which the Little Tigers blanked earlier this month as one of Lackey's shutout victims, see page 23.

WYN JENNINGS

Little Tiger Sprint Star

A "real natural" runner, 18-year old Wyn Jennings has accounted for 4 Princeton High School points to lead the Little Tiger track team this season in scoring. This is nothing new for the senior sprinter, who was high scorer for the PHS squad in his first season of competition last year. Jennings, who runs the 100-yard dash and 220, has finished first or second in each of the PHS meets so far this year.

"A great meet runner," said Coach Win Niles of his charge. "Even in the toughest meets, he'll always be in there trying his best and never give up. He's the most conscientious boy on the squad, and I can always rely on him not to slack off."

Jennings, who transferred here from Lawrence Junior High two years ago, is small for a sprinter at 5-5, 150 pounds, but as Coach Niles puts it, "Those legs really fly." The running captain of the Little Tiger squad, Jennings is most often described by Niles as "consistent." A star from the beginning with the Little Tigers, Jennings last year accounted for a total of 58 points in dual meets.

The sprinter's top time in the 100 this year was a 10.3, and in his best race in the 220, he was clocked at 23 seconds flat. While these times are far from the record breaking point of view, the main thing is that Jennings has given this year's Princeton High team a factor it badly needs. The basic strength of the Little Tiger squad is centered in the weight events, and Jennings helps offset this lack of balance as a consistent winner in the sprints.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jennings, Fackler Road, in living up to his name, Wyn has won for the Little Tigers when they have most needed it this season. The small, but solid, runner may not be able to develop into one of the fastest men alive, but he is sure to be remembered for his consistent victories against competition. Coming out of nowhere, Jennings was a star from the start with Princeton High a year ago. Perhaps the most impressive feature about him on the sidelines, in his first season, was not that he won both the century and the 220 in five of six meets, but rather that he kept going in the face of team disappointments.

The diminutive sparkplug has another quality besides running ability that marks him for a sure success in the armed services, in which he plans to enlist after graduation. He is well liked by everybody, Coach Niles noted, "He is one of the most popular fellows that I have even known, and he gets along with almost everybody. You like him almost as soon as you've known him." As one of Princeton High's few sprint standouts in recent years, and an important factor in this year's team as a steady force in the running department, his routine things should not bother Wyn, who has also won nothing but praise for his consistent running and for his spirit of "never say die."

Paul's baseball team to a 9-1 victory over St. Mary's at Bordentown on Saturday. Corvino fanned eight batters and gave up four walks for his second straight win of the new season.

The Cavalier attack was led by Freddy Singer, who went three-for-four, collecting a single, a double and a home run, and Tom Stemmle, who hammered out three singles in as many times at bat. Singer's homer in the first inning began the St. Paul's scoring barrage. The frame's second run was added by Corvino, who walked, stole second and tallied on a rolling single by John Thomas.

Singer and Corvino each scored in the third inning, and the game was put on ice by St. Paul's five-run explosion in the fourth. St. Mary's lone run was permitted by an infield error with two men on in the second stanza. The triumph was the second in three outings for Coach Marty Lombardo's Cavaliers.

BOWLING NOTES

Del is Industrial Champ. Nassau Del became champion of the Industrial League by defeating the first-round winner, Maier & Baldwin, last week in a rolloff at Princeton Recreation Center. High team score of 1,001 was posted in the second game. John and Hal Frazier, with 236 and 200 games, respectively, were the individual leaders.

In other rolloff play, Cranbury Inn defeated Deckers for the Women's Industrial League title. In the "B" loop, the only league with three rounds, second-round winner National Guard beat Jefferson Plumbing, the first-round champ. The Jeffersonians, who also won Round 3, will have another try for the crown when they

ISRAELI TALK PLANNED

For Israel With Meeting. A talk on "Some Aspects of Israeli Life" will be given this Thursday at a meeting of the Israel Branch
Women of Princeton by Daniel Sperber, an Israeli currently studying at the Princeton Graduate School. The meeting, scheduled for 8:30 p.m. at Princeton Jewish Center, is being held in observance of the 11th anniversary of the State of Israel.

Mrs. Maurice Glicksman will report on the vocational guide-program and Mrs. Jerome Shatzkin will report on Little Projects.
A report on the current membership drive will be given by Mrs.
Simon Larach.

COORDINATED LIGHTS SET

For Route 1. A coordinated system of traffic lights will be installed on Route 1 from the Trenton Traffic circle to the Green Street circle in Woodbridge. It was announced this week by the New Jersey State Highway Department. This system will permit a car to travel at a constant 50 miles per hour throughout the entire 36-mile section without encountering a single red light.

Under this coordinated system, motorists on intersecting side-roads will activate the traffic signal by running over a detector in the road. The light will not turn green for them, however, until the interval arrives which coordinates with the Route 1 staggered system. If there is no motorist on a side road, the lights on Route 1 will remain green constantly.

A total of 30 traffic signal installations will be included in the project, which is scheduled to be completed by October 1. They will be located at 28 "jughandle" turn areas. Also planned are fluorescent lights for these intersections and incandescent lights at other locations along Route 1.
Areas in which the construction
will be undertaken are Lawrence, West Windsor, Plainsboro, South and North Brunswick, Edison and Woodbridge Townships.

The electrical project, a segment of the overall Route 1 rehabilitation program, comes under the Federal Government's program of aid to primary and urban highways. Costs are shared by State and Federal governments on a 50-50 basis.

Plans for the rehabilitated Route 1 call for a four-lane highway with concrete barrier barriers and hard-surfaced shoulders 10-feet wide. More than 50 "jughandle" turns will be constructed to permit left-hand and u-turns outside the main traffic systems.

Many of these have already been completed.

Complete interchanges will be provided at heavily traveled intersecting highways. Crowded Route 18 will be carried over Route 1 by an overpass with ramps, and another complete clover-leaf interchange is planned at Milltown Road.

SHRINE CIRCUUS SLATED

For June 4-7 in Trenton. The Princeton Shrine Club is among Central and Southern Jersey
Shrine Clubs sponsoring the second annual Shrine Circus, to be held June 4-7 in Trenton.

The circus, to be held at the Trenton Fair Grounds, will be the 52-act, three-ring, Hamd-Morton Circus. S. Hanner Fleming of Pennington is chairman of the Shrine
Circus Management Committee.

MILITARY EXAMS SET

For This July. Examinations for all candidates for entrance in 1960 to the U.S. military service academies will be held this July.
It was announced this week by Senator Harrison A. Williams, Jr.
The examinations are scheduled for Monday, July 13. Exact time and place will be announced later.
Senator Williams said that he has received about 250 requests from New Jersey students who want to enroll at West Point, the Naval Academy at Annapolis, or the new Air Force Academy. Application forms have already been mailed to all these students.

Many candidates wrote to the Senator in December, he said, asking about possible entrance this Fall. This year's quota, however, had been filled by earlier appointments of Senator Williams' predecessor, he said.

Sports In Princeton

TIGERS TRIMMED
By Title-Bound Navy. The 1959 Eastern League race came to a virtual Tuesday evening, as the hard-hitting baseball team defeated Princeton, 9 to 1, at Annapolis. The midshipmen came to the title by defeating Army in their traditional game on May 30, and only Dartmouth has a chance to tie for first place.

Lethander Dave Douglas started for the Tigers, giving way to term Burt in the third. The two Tiger hurlers were pounded for 13 hits and for a total of 22 bases, including a pair of home runs by outfielder Dick Lee.

The Orange and Black came up with its lone tally in the fourth, when it was hit by a 5-0. The brief rally was then eclipsed by a triple play, an extreme rarity in the three-decade old circuit.

REVENUE GAINED

By Trenton Catholic. A six-run third inning gave the Blue-White all the impetus it needed to coast to a 7-3 victory over Princeton High School Tuesday afternoon on the victors' Wetzlar Field. Jack Lackey, who tossed a 20-shutout at the Wave earlier this season, was the victim.

The parochial nine broke the tie with a run in the first and had another tally erased at the plate, when six more were hurled, 5-0. The third as ten men went to the plate.

The Little Tigers made as many runs as they did hits, doing all their scoring in the top of the fourth. Lackey, Rick Hurford and Brian Sondvik, who struck out Lackey on the mound, crossed the plate for the losers.

PCB WINS LAST TWO

Topps 200 for Season. A pair of victories in its final two games pushed the Princeton Country Day School baseball team above the break-even point for the season. The Blue and White won Tuesday's game at the Wave, 4-1, in addition to winning the annual Father-Son game.

Mac Morris was the winning pitcher in all of the Blue and White triumphs. He defeated the Fathers' team Saturday, 7 to 1. In the only run he gave up, Joe Coffee homered to left center, taking care to hit the ball among the trapings being assembled for the annual Fair.

PCD rallied to edge Wardlaw School on Tuesday, coming from behind to win, 3-2, at Plainfield. After the home team took a 2-0 lead in the second, Coach D. Wardlaw narrowed the margin in the fifth when Coffee completed the circuit.

In the sixth, Steve Cook crossed the plate on a single by Captain Charlie Stuart, who went to second on the throw home. Stuart then stole third and Coffee drove in the winning run with his second hit of the day.

SOFTBALL STARTS

In Men's and Girls' League. Harry Kahny and George Bocanuso pitched shutouts to mark the opening games Tuesday evening in the Community Softball League. The circuit included four teams this season: the Sportsmen, Cenerinos, Pete and Mike's and Seminos.

Kahny's four-hitter blanked the Cenerinos for the Sportsmen in an errorless game played on the College Field. The Seminos limited the opposition to four hits, but the victors got to him for three runs in the first and two more in the fifth.

Bocanuso whitewashed Pete and Mike's for Seminos with a two-hit performance. A run in the second proved to be all he needed, but his master pitched two more in the fifth. Play will continue this Thursday evening and twice a week throughout the season.

Action in the Girls' League was scheduled to begin this Wednesday. This season, which will be sponsored by the Thorne Pharmacy, Clarksville Diner, ETS and Town Topics.

Elegant — Yet Informal

Custom Built Homes In Princeton's
Western Section

Just Minutes From Town on Princeton Pike
Mercer Road

These homes are custom built in the true sense of the word with an eye to the finite details that go to make for a truly custom home, and of course, provisions were made for complete air-conditioning. All houses are on lots of over an acre completely and individually landscaped and have oversized two-car garages. These homes are priced at close to builder's cost and well below the market.

80-Foot Ranch - (Under Construction) - Situated on a lovely high lot. Enter a large, gracious reception foyer; then see the spacious living room with a fireplace and lovely bow picture window - a mahogany paneled den with large glass sliding doors to your garden - full sized dining room and a separate breakfast room, both with picture bow windows - an extremely modern kitchen with all built in appliances - laundry room - 3 oversized bedrooms - 2½ baths - and a full basement. Priced below market $43,500.

2-Story Colonial - 4 bedrooms - 2 baths and a guest powder room - delightful living room with glass sliding doors leading to an outdoor dining patio - and a dream kitchen completely equipped to make your mundane daily chores a pleasant daily interlude. Priced to sell quickly. $44,500.

94-Foot Ranch - (Under Construction) - Situated on a corner lot - 3 large bedrooms - 2½ baths, one bath with double basin vanity - large living room with fireplace and built in bookcases - paneled library or den - dining room - separate breakfast room, both with large bay windows and a completely equipped modern kitchen - laundry room and a large basement. Nothing in the area like it at $44,500.

2-Story Southern Colonial - (Under Construction) - majestically sitting in a group of lovely old trees atop a knoll with its 2 story white columns on a 40 foot portico against a background of old brick is a picture home one must see. 4 oversized bedrooms - 2 baths and a beautifully appointed guest powder room - large living room with a fireplace - mahogany paneled library - full dining room - separate breakfast room - fully equipped kitchen with all birch cabinets and a large laundry and utility room - also a full basement. This home priced at $47,500 is probably Princeton's biggest bargain.
